Work history

2011 – date Consultant Clinical Psychologist

I worked in private practice with colleagues, operating under the auspices of Resolution Counselling Solutions, Rimmer & Yoeli Associates and Immanence Therapeutic Solutions

1993-2011 Consultant Clinical Psychologist
Newcastle CAMHS

As a senior team member, I undertook complex clinical work with children and families exhibiting a diversity of forms of mental and emotional distress. In addition, I initiated and developed group work with families and supervised a range of trainees.

1991-1993 Project Co-ordinator
Richmond Fellowship, London

I was responsible for planning, developing and supervising community care projects for young adults with mental health difficulties and learning disabilities. This included the ongoing delivery of training and staff supervision.

1987-1991 Senior Clinical Psychologist
Fleming Nuffield Unit, Newcastle

I was involved in the assessment and treatment of children both in in-patient and out-patient settings, supervision and training of junior team members and community health work addressing abuse and neglect in the West of Newcastle. My clinical work involved a wide range of developmental, learning and behavioural difficulties, eating disorders and family issues. I carried out research in the area of autistic spectrum disorders and parenting.

1982-1987 Psychologist Unit Head
Eitanim Psychiatric Hospital, Israel

I managed a 20 bed secure unit for young people with autism.

1982-1987 Consultant
Child and Family Services Adoption and Fostering Agency, Israel

I carried out assessments and compiled court reports in relation to child placements
This involved complex legal and policy work and I was involved in a task force developing national legislation.

1986 World Health Organisation Fellow in Child Health

I was awarded this prestigious fellowship to study community care and rehabilitation across Europe.

1981-1982 APA approved intern
Child and Family Services Connecticut, USA

Child assessment and therapy, using a range of techniques and involving a high degree of preventative work

1980-1981 Field Worker
Child and Family Health Denver, USA

Provided psychological services to young children with a range of organic, psychosomatic, behavioural and mental health difficulties, including failure to thrive and brain injury

1978-1980 Trainee Clinical Psychologist
Denver and Washington DC, USA

Mental health work with children, adults and older adults, with special emphasis on rehabilitation of chronically-ill psychiatric patients and family therapy

1969-1972 Military Service, Israeli Defence Force

1972-1975 Youth Leader, Informal Education
Ministry of Education, Israel

I have presented at a variety of conferences worldwide and have published in a range of academic and professional journals. A list of these is available upon request.

I speak Hebrew, English and Spanish.
